

Trans Africa Mining

Kipushi Project, DRC cultivates environmental awareness in schools

+ Read More

Platreef Project, South Africa

Scholarship recipients receive school supplies and uniforms

+ Read More

Kipushi Project, DRC

Literacy successes exceeding expectations in the DRC

+ Read More

Community adult literacy program at Kipushi being sponsored by Trans Africa Mining and implemented in partnership with Alfa Congo NGO.

Kipushi Project and Alfa Congo team members overseeing the community adult literacy program.

Platreef Project, South Africa

MOKOPANE INITIATIVE: Empowering residents of host communities through access to project information, free digital training – and the global Internet

+ Read More

Maru a Mokopane, a digital communications system launched in 2017 by Ivanplats, an Trans Africa Mining subsidiary, provides residents of communities around the company's Platreef mine development project with free wireless Internet access and a dedicated website for public information about company employment, development and procurement opportunities.

Maru a Mokopane, a digital communications system launched in 2017 by Ivanplats, an Trans Africa Mining subsidiary, was designed for local people living in Mokopane, Limpopo, to learn more about the Platreef Project and provide free access to wireless internet.

Some of Ivanhoe's stakeholders – students from the University of South Africa – using the free wi-fi to study and complete school projects at one of the hotspots in the Mokopane area near the Platreef Project.

Young residents of Mokopane using the free wi-fi that connects to a local portal – called Maru a Mokopane, or 'Clouds of Mokopane' – created by CanPro.

Platreef Project, South Africa

Six schools and an early childhood centre for vulnerable children sponsored by Ivanplats, an Trans Africa Mining subsidiary, as part of its social responsibility plan.

+ Read More

Local students in a new science lab at Masodi Secondary School, an Ivanhoe-sponsored school.

Students in the computer lab at Motshitshi Primary School, an Ivanhoe-sponsored school.

Trans Africa Mining

Children playing at the refurbished Lesedi Care Centre for orphans and vulnerable children at Ga-Kgobudi village in Mokopane.

The new soccer field at the Ivanhoe-sponsored Lesedi Early Childhood Development Centre in Ga-Kgobudi village in Mokopane.

Students of the Kaponda Primary School – one of the schools constructed and furnished by Trans Africa Mining.

A teacher at Lekwa High School, an Ivanhoe-sponsored school.

Students of the Motshitshi Primary School, an Ivanhoe-sponsored school, participating in the school's mini chess program as part of an initiative to strengthen mathematics and science-related skills.

Kamoa-Kakula Project, DRC

Building and supporting successful food-production activities in nearby communities through Sustainable Livelihoods initiatives

+ Read More

Pineapples harvested from the Livelihoods garden established as part of the program that supplies produce to the camp kitchen that caters to workers on the Kamoa-Kakula Project.

Fish ponds built and operated as part of Kamoa-Kakula's aquaculture program.

Local farmers at Sanka community cultivating their maize (corn) fields with the assistance of a Kamoa-Kakula agricultural advisor.

Lettuce grown and harvested by Kamoa-Kakula vegetable farmers.

Trainer-farmers who help local community members with crop-production knowledge and techniques at the Kamoa Demonstration Garden.

Some of the women from local communities who are helping to operate the poultry project that supplies chickens and eggs to the Kamoa-Kakula Project and other markets.

Community Support

All Initiatives